Post-conference excursions

All rooms starting with UB are located at the University of Barcelona building.

All rooms starting with CCCB are located at the CCCB building.

Two sessions will have place at the Archaeology Museum of Catalunya on September 6th.

Medieval Europe Research Community (MERC)

The purpose of the Medieval Europe Research Community (MERC) is to promote research into medieval archaeology in every country throughout Europe by providing a hub for existing societies and researchers, aiding practitioners in Europe and the rest of the world. Its ethos is a medieval archaeology without borders. The MERC is the successor of the Medieval Europe Congresses that were held in York, Bruges, Basel and Paris from 1992 to 2007.

The MERC brings the medieval archaeologists at every Annual Meeting together at their Forum and at their Annual Party – in Barcelona this will be a tapas party.

The MERC is pleased to be affiliated with several sessions at this Annual Meeting and hopes that these sessions will encourage archaeological debate. The views expressed in those sessions are those of the contributors and may not represent those of the MERC.

Chartered Institute for Archaeologists (CIfA)

The Chartered Institute for Archaeologists (CIfA) is the leading professional body representing archaeologists working in the UK and overseas. It promotes high professional standards and strong ethics in archaeological practice, to maximise the benefits that archaeologists bring to society.

Founded in 1982, the CIfA is the authoritative and effective voice for archaeologists, bringing recognition and respect to our profession. It represents professional archaeology to government, policy-makers and business.

The CIfA sets standards, issues guidelines and improves career prospects through training and learning opportunities and by providing information about developments in professional practice. CIfA professionals are accredited and skilled in the study and care of the historic environment. They, and CIfA's Registered Organisations, sign up to a rigorous code of conduct, professional development (CPD) schemes and complaints procedures to uphold competence and standards in archaeology. In these ways, the CIfA acts as a self-regulatory body for the archaeological profession.

The CIfA is pleased to be affiliated with several sessions at this Meeting and hopes that these sessions will encourage archaeological debate. The views expressed in those sessions are those of the contributors and may not represent those of the CIfA.

Society of Africanist Archaeologists (SAfA)

The Society of Africanist Archaeologists (SAfA) is an organisation of archaeologists, researchers from associated disciplines and others who share an interest in African archaeology and African societies. Our membership is international, with participation from Africa, the Americas, Europe and Asia. Members are actively involved in research in many African countries.

The SAfA is pleased to be affiliated with several sessions at this annual Meeting and hopes that these sessions will encourage archaeological debate. The views expressed in those sessions are those of the contributors and may not represent those of the SAfA.

The scientific programme printed in the Programme Book was last updated on 23rd July 2018; any later changes are available on the Annual Meeting website www.e-a-a.org/EEA2018/ScientificProgramme, where detailed programme search and abstracts are also available.

Author affiliation is stated in brackets following the author's name; where authors share the same affiliation, it is only stated once.

Filming and photographing

It is forbidden to film at sessions, the Annual Membership Business Meeting and other official occasions without the permission of the EAA. The EAA provides filming facilities for selected sessions and the Opening Ceremony.
